Have you ever wondered what it would be if something around us could talk back to us? In this poem, you will read about a cheerful voice that answers in the most surprising way.

Good Morning, merry Sunshine,
How did you wake so soon?
You've scared the little stars away
And shied away the moon;
I saw you go to sleep last night
Before I ceased my playing,
How did you get way over here?
And where have you been staying?
I never go to sleep, dear;
I just go round to see
My little children of the East
Who rise and watch for me.
I waken all the birds and bees
And flowers on the way;
And last of all the little child
Who stayed out late to play.
